

This laboratory is specialized in

CONSERVATION FRAMING

It's a collection of rules, techniques and materials used to frame what is inside that is on paper of an elevated artistic, historical or affective value for which the frame has to have as its main aim that of protection and conservation for a very long period of time.

It's the type of framing required by museums and art galleries.

Ask for the illustrated brochure